Product Description

The Honeywell North RU8800 Series is a silicone half mask compatible with the Honeywell North N-Series cartridges and filters. The half mask has a triple flange that provides three sealing surfaces between the mask and face for additional layers of protection against seal leaks. The RU8800 comes in two sizes: small (RU88001S) and medium/ large (RU88001ML). Due to its unique design, the RU8800 fits a wide variety of facial types.
